

WATER MAIN FLUSHING INFORMATION

The water company will periodically flush water mains in your area to remove possible undesirable sediments from the systems water mains and hydrants. This is part of the water distribution maintenance program. You will be notified by our automated telephone notification system when your area may be affected by flushing.

During flushing you may experience some water pressure fluctuations and the possibility of some discoloration of water (blackish or brown coloring) due to “stirring-up” of sediments in water mains. Please know, if discolored water does occur, it is not a health hazard but can cause staining of your laundry.

Please do not wash clothing during this time.

If you experience any discoloration of you water, please do the following:

- Open a few faucets in and outside of your home and flush your water lines until the water turns clear.
- Run washing machines through a complete wash cycle without clothes or detergent to make certain all water entering the machine is clear.

We apologize for any inconvenience this may bring to our customers during the flushing event, but flushing water mains is necessary to help better serve you with clean and safer water.
